Task	Ensure greater representation and voice of developing countries in decision-making processes in global international economic and financial institutions in order to make these institutions more effective, reputable, accountable and legitimate
The indicator	The number of international organizations in which Kazakhstan is represented
2. Information about the organization
Organization	Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Kazakhstan
3. Definitions and concepts
Definition	Representation in international organizations consists of two components, the right voice and members in international organizations. In some formations, these two components are identical.
Basic concepts:	The indicator is calculated independently for nine different international institutions: the UN General Assembly, the UN Security Council, the UN Economic and Social Council, the International Monetary Fund, the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, the International Finance Corporation, the Asian Development Bank, the Universal Trade Organization and the Financial Stability Board.
Justification and interpretation	The United Nations is based on the principle of the sovereign equality of all its Member States (Article 2, the UN Charter). This indicator is aimed at measuring the extent to which a State enjoys equal representation in various international organizations.
4. Data sources and collection methods
Data sources	The annual reports presented on the website of the relevant institution are used as data sources.
Data collection methods	The accountable body (the Ministry of Foreign Affairs) collects statistical data from the websites of the relevant institutions.
Unit of measurement	Units
Periodicity	Annual
5. Calculation method and other methodological considerations
Calculation method:	The calculation uses each institution's own published membership and voting rights data corresponding to the annual reports.
Comments and restrictions:	Cross-institutional comparisons should include the different stadiums of the member organizations. Voting rights and membership in the institutions are agreed upon by the Member States themselves.
6. Data availability and disaggregation
Data availability and gaps:	Available for all countries
The level of disaggregation:	The data is calculated and presented separately for each international organization.
7. Comparability with international data/standards
