3. Definitions and concepts
Definition	The indicator, the share of government spending on the social sphere, determines the amount of government spending separately directed to education, health and social protection, culture, sports, tourism and the information space from the total amount of spending in the country.
Basic concepts:	The state budget is a centralized monetary fund of the state that unites the republican and local budgets without taking into account the mutually redeemable transactions between them. The cost of education includes expenses related to the education of children, the training of specialists with postgraduate, technical and professional, post-secondary and higher education in educational institutions, professional development and retraining, provision of textbooks and teaching materials, and others.; Healthcare costs include the costs of providing medical care, medical work and services, activities in the field of public health and other expenses; The costs of social assistance and social security for low-income citizens include the costs of securing obligations for social payments, benefits, social services and assistance, employment, migration; The costs of culture, sports, tourism, and information space include the costs of supporting and operating culture, art, sports, and information space, ensuring the preservation of historical and cultural heritage sites, developing the state language, and others.
Justification and interpretation	Social expenditures are considered in comparison by sectors of the social sphere, calculated as a share of the total expenditures of the country. The share of funds allocated to social sectors (education, healthcare, social assistance and social security, culture, sports, tourism and the information space) allows you to compare the level of spending on the sector by year.
4. Data sources and collection methods
Data sources Data	State Budget Execution Report
collection methods	Information system "e-Ministry of Finance"
Unit of measurement	Percentage
Periodicity	annually

5. Calculation method and other methodological considerations
Calculation method:	The indicator is calculated as the ratio of the volume of government expenditures of each of the sectors of the social sphere (education, healthcare, social assistance and social security, culture, sports, tourism and information space) to the total volume of state budget expenditures as a percentage
Comments and restrictions:	The indicator is calculated based on the reporting data on the execution of the state budget for the corresponding year.
6. Data availability and disaggregation
Data availability and gaps:	Government expenditure data is available on the page of the Unified Portal of the Internet resources of government agencies. According to the cost classification, the volume of expenditures by area is reflected in 4 "Education", 5 "Healthcare", 6 "Social assistance and social security", 7 "Culture, Sports, Tourism and information space" functional groups, the cost structure of which is determined in accordance with the Order of the Minister of Finance of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated September 18, 2014 No. 403 "Some issues of the Unified Budget Classification of the Republic of Kazakhstan"
The level of disaggregation:	The share of expenditures is disaggregated by type of budget - for the republican and local budgets. The republican budget determines the amount of expenditures allocated to the administrator of the republican budget programs - the central executive and other central government agencies. The local budget determines the amount of expenditures allocated to the administrator of local budget programs, determined based on the basic structure of local government, approved by the Government of the Republic of Kazakhstan, and the management scheme of the relevant administrative-territorial unit.
